Please describe your maternity leave policy for staff and faculty.

BROCK

Staff: Provisions for Maternity Leave are set out in the Employment Standards Act (Ontario) which provides for leave without pay for a period of 17 weeks.

A staff member who has been employed for one year and eleven weeks is entitled to return to her previous position or a position of a comparable nature without a reduction in salary.

The staff member may initiate the leave within eleven weeks of the expected date of delivery. She must provide two weeks written notice of her intention to take the leave and provide her employer with a doctor's statement which sets out the expected date of delivery.

She may not return to work for a period of six weeks following delivery unless her doctor provides written consent to return within the six week period.

The University may provide extensions to the above periods of leave as they are requested and if they are reasonable under the circumstances.

Faculty: Any member of the faculty who is tenured, or on a probationary full-time contract who applies for maternity leave for pregnancy is entitled to such leave provided she has been continuously employed for one year or more before the time she can commence statutory maternity leave (eleven weeks prior to the expected date of birth). Maternity leave does not, however, imply rights or privileges beyond what they would have been had pregnancy not occurred. Some flexibility is desirable in arranging maternity leave, and the following should govern the arrangements for this purpose.

Length of Leave: Normally, leave will be granted for a maximum period of seventeen weeks. Leave may voluntarily be shorter than this period, although if a woman wishes to work before six weeks' post-delivery, a medical certificate is required. If the pregnancy results in medical complications, leave will be extended, but will not exceed six months in total.

Distribution of Leave: The employee is entitled to begin her maternity leave at any time within eleven weeks before the expected date of birth. She must, however, give the University three months' notice in writing of the date upon which she intends to begin her leave and a medical certificate indicating the expected date of birth. She is entitled to a fixed minimum post-natal leave of six weeks after the actual date of the birth or ending after no more than seventeen weeks from the beginning of the leave, whichever is later.

Sabbatical Leave: Where an entitlement to maternity leave occurs during the faculty member's sabbatical leave, she will be treated as if she were fulfilling her normal sabbatical commitments during that period.

Tenure and Promotion: In view of the fact that a maternity leave may reduce the faculty member's time for research and other duties, and hence place her in an unfavourable position with respect to a pending tenure or promotion decision, it is recommended that such decisions may be postponed for a maximum of one year at the faculty member's request, regardless of the number of leaves taken during that period.

Benefits: Maternity leave will not affect fringe benefits. Arrangements will be made to have all fringe benefits continue during the period of leave, and the University will make its contributions as usual.

Salary and Responsibilities: Current salary will continue for three months of the maternity leave; the remaining time is unpaid leave. In the case of medical complications the woman should apply for sick leave pay and/or long term disability pay. If the leave occurs during a time when the woman has scheduled teaching commitments to the University, she may be required to make up the time lost within the next three calendar years. In this case, the exact obligations must be determined by mutual agreement between the department, the woman concerned, and the Dean or Director, and stated in writing.

CARLETON

Staff: (a) The University grants maternity leave on request in accordance with the provisions of the Employment Standards Act of Ontario. The University maintains the employee's annual and sick leave credits while she is on maternity leave, and will continue to pay the Employer share of staff benefit plans if the employee agrees to continue paying the Employee share of the premiums.

(b) Upon request, the employee may be granted up to three (3) months' leave of absence, without pay, in addition to the standard maternity leave. Such permission shall not be unreasonably withheld. Upon return to work, the employee shall be reinstated in her former position, or in a job of at least equal position, salary and seniority. An employee who is granted leave of absence under this section will be required to pay the full premiums of the staff benefit plans during such leave of absence.

Faculty: An employee shall upon application be granted maternity leave subject to the following conditions:

(a) Application for maternity leave shall be made fifteen (15) weeks prior to the expected termination of the employee's pregnancy and shall be supported by a certificate from a qualified member of the medical profession.

(b) The employee shall have the right to continue her regular duties during pregnancy.

(c) All female members shall be eligible after the first year of their employment with the University.

(d) The maximum period of maternity leave shall be seventeen (17) weeks. If additional time is required the employee may apply for leave without pay pursuant to Article 20.1.

(e) For the first twelve (12) weeks (or less if the leave is of shorter duration) of maternity leave the employee shall continue to receive her regular salary. The employer shall maintain regular contribution to her benefit plan.

(f) For the last five (5) weeks (or less if the leave is of duration shorter than seventeen (17) weeks) of maternity leave the employee and the employer shall continue to pay their respective shares of the cost of maintaining the employee's membership in the University's benefit plans.

(g) Maternity leave shall count as time worked when calculating such items as sabbatical entitlement, years to tenure, promotion and credited service for the Retirement Plan.

(h) On returning from maternity leave the employee shall be placed in her former position or in a position equivalent to her former position with no loss of seniority.

(i) The employee shall advise her immediate supervisor of her intention to return at least two (2) weeks prior to the intended date of return.

GUELPH

In compliance with the Employment Standards Act, the following policy is to apply throughout the University to govern the granting of leave for purposes of childbirth.

1. The employer shall not terminate the employment of an employee who is entitled to pregnancy leave but may require the employee to commence such leave when the duties being performed cannot be reasonably performed by a pregnant woman. If the supervisor is not certain of the employee's physical ability to do the work, he may require medical certification of such ability signed by a legally qualified medical practitioner.

2. To be eligible, an employee should have been employed at least one (1) year plus eleven (11) weeks before the expected date of birth. An employee so qualifying will be granted at least seventeen (17) weeks leave of absence without pay, or such shorter periods as requested by the employee; commencing eleven (11) weeks prior to the estimated date of birth.

3. Where the actual date of delivery is later than the estimated date of delivery, the leave of absence shall not end before the expiration of six (6) weeks following the actual date of delivery.

4. The employee shall give at least two (2) weeks notice in writing of her intent to commence a leave of absence because of pregnancy, and at that time will furnish a certificate signed by a legally qualified medical practitioner stating the employee is pregnant and giving the expected date of delivery.

5. The period of leave of absence prior to the expected date of delivery may be shortened, and the period after the actual date of birth may be extended, upon request of the employee and upon approval by the employer.

6. An employee may shorten the duration of the six (6) week period after the actual date of delivery providing one (1) weeks notice is given the employer of her intention to do so and providing she furnishes the employer with a medical certificate, signed by a legally qualified medical practioner, stating that she is able to resume her duties.

7. For additional income protection purposes an employee eligible for maternity leave is permitted to use earned vacation leave for all or part of the time she would be entitled to be on maternity leave without pay. Vacation leave entitlement may also be used to extend, contiguously, a period of maternity leave.

8. An employee proceeding on maternity leave may be entitled to maternity benefits which are administered by the Unemployment Insurance Commission. She should ensure that she obtains a Certificate of Separation for such maternity benefits from the Payroll Office.

LAKEHEAD

Staff: Maternity leave available after 6 months' continuous service. Employee resumes her previous position upon return to work. Length of service and vacation credits are not reduced by maternity leave.

Faculty: No formal policy has yet been generated.

LAURENTIAN

Faculty: No formal policy at the present time.

Staff: An employee shall upon application be granted maternity leave subject to the following conditions:

1) The employee shall be entitled to an unpaid leave of absence providing she has been employed with the employer for at least 12 months and 11 weeks.

ii) The duration of the leave shall be in accordance with the Employment Standards Act (Ontario) which provides for leave for a period of 17 weeks.

iii) The leave may commence at any time during the 11 weeks preceding the expected date of delivery.

iv) The employee shall make written application to the Director of Personnel two (2) weeks prior to the date she intends to commence her leave. - At that time, she will be required to provide a certificate from a legally qualified medical practitioner stating that the employee is pregnant and her expected date of delivery.

v) The employee shall not return to work prior to the expiration of six (6) weeks following the actual date of delivery. A shorter period of time shall only be granted with the approval of a legally qualified medical practitioner.

vi) The employee shall advise in writing her Department Head and the Director of Personnel of her intention to return to work two (2) weeks prior to the scheduled completion of her leave.

vii) The employee shall be reinstated in her former position or in a position equivalent to her former position at the same rate of pay she was receiving prior to the commencement of her leave.

viii) The employee shall continue to accrue sick leave credits and vacation credits during her leave.

ix) During the period of maternity leave, the University shall continue to pay the employer's share of all benefits in which the employee is enrolled, excluding contributions to the Laurentian University Retirement Plan.

x) The employee shall be required to make arrangements with Personnel Services prior to commencement of such leave to prepay her share of all benefits she wishes to retain excluding the Laurentian University Retirement Plan.

xi) Maternity leave shall include an unpaid leave of absence by an employee to care for an adopted or proposed adopted child, for a period of eight (8) consecutive weeks subsequent to the placement of the child in the care of the employee or in accordance with the requirements of the Children's Aid Society, to be at the option of the employee.

THIS POLICY SHALL NOT CONFLICT WITH THE TERMS OF ANY COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS.

MCMASTER
Faculty:
Entitlement: A member of the faculty who is pregnant and who applies for maternity leave is entitled to such leave provided she has been continuously employed for one year or more before the expected date of birth of the child. Maternity leave does not, however, imply rights or privileges beyond what they would have been had pregnancy not occurred. Some flexibility is desirable in arranging maternity leave, and the following should govern the arrangements for this purpose.

Length of leave: Leave will be granted for the necessary period of time required but will not exceed a period of six months unless there are complications resulting from the pregnancy. If return to work is desired within six weeks of the birth of the child, the legislation requires that a medical certificate be obtained.

Salary: It is recognized that the work of a faculty member continues even though she may not be on campus. Accordingly, if her schedule can be so arranged that the time taken for maternity leave can be related to a continuous period of three months in each year free from scheduled commitments to the University (as defined in the load teaching document), salary will be continued for that period.

Leave of absence with pay will be granted to the faculty member for six weeks in addition to the three-month period specified above when mutually suitable arrangements can be made to fulfill her responsibilities.

All other periods of leave for maternity purposes will be without pay.

Sabbatical Leave: Where pregnancy occurs during the faculty member's sabbatical leave, she will be treated as if she were fulfilling her normal sabbatical commitments during that period.

Benefits: Maternity leave will not affect seniority of service in respect to the following benefits: Group Life Insurance, Ontario Hospital Insurance, Major Medical Insurance, Salary Continuance and Long Term Disability Insurance, McMaster Contributory Pension Plan, eligibility for Sabbatical Leave, Tuition assistance, and Vacations. Arrangements will be made to have these benefits continue during the period of leave.

Staff: If you are a female employee with at least one year of service and definitely intend to return to work in your department after the birth of a child, you may request and will be granted a leave of absence, without pay, for the necessary period of time, subject to the following limitations:
i) At the time you make this request, you have not been notified of the termination of your employment by the University.
ii) If you wish to work beyond the seventh month of pregnancy, a doctor's certificate may be required.
iii) When you are ready and desire to return to work and, provided you have been absent for no more than six months, your department will make available to you a position at the same level and as similar as possible to the post you occupied before your leave. When possible, one month's notice should be given of your intention to return.
iv) If you wish to return to work within six weeks of the birth of the child, a doctor's certificate will be required.
v) If no longer than six months, your absence will not affect your seniority or service record in respect to vacations, pension, etc.

Please describe your maternity leave policy for staff and faculty. (Continued)

OTTAWA

Support Staff

Any female member who has a regular position requiring twenty-one (21) hours of work per week and who has completed twelve months of continuous service is eligible for a maternity leave and for the following benefits:

A) A seventeen (17) weeks maternity leave.
B) The University will continue to pay one hundred per cent (100%) of the regular basic earnings for an initial period of fourteen (14) calendar days.
C) During the following fifteen (15) weeks of maternity leave, the employees will receive their normal unemployment insurance benefits and the university will supplement their income to a level equivalent to ninety-five per cent (95%) of their normal salary.
D) The employee shall continue to accumulate full vacation leave during her maternity leave.

Faculty Members

Faculty members who have 50% or more of a normal work load and who have completed one year of continuous service are entitled to a seventeen (17) weeks maternity leave. The University continues to pay 100% of basic earnings during the seventeen (17) weeks.

The University must keep the position of an employee (Support and Faculty) on maternity leave available only until the end of the seventeen week (17) period of maternity leave or the six-week (6) period of post-natal leave whichever is the later.

Adoption Leave: The University will continue to pay one hundred per cent (100%) of the regular basic salary for an initial period of 14 calendar days providing it is followed by a 1 month leave of absence from the same person.

QUEEN'S (Maternity and Adoption)

Up to six months' leave without pay.
Continuation of benefits including O.H.I.P., medical and life insurance and pension plan at full cost to employee with the employer cost to be refunded when the employee returns to work.

RYERSON

Follow Government policy--all benefits other than pension covered during leave.

TORONTO

Providing that the faculty or administrative staff member makes a commitment to return to her duties at the University following her confinement and she has or will have one year of continuous service as of the expected date of delivery the University will provide her with maternity leave at full pay for a 15 week period. If the faculty or administrative staff member wishes to take the full 17 weeks maternity leave the additional 2 weeks is taken without pay.

In the event that the faculty or administrative staff member is unable or unwilling to make the commitment to return to her duties at the University following her confinement or she will not meet the one year of continuous service as of the expected date of delivery she can request maternity leave without pay for the 17 week period.

TRENT

Maternity leave, in the form of unpaid leave of absence for a period of 17 weeks, is available to all full-time female members of the University's faculty and staff who have completed at least ten months' continuous service prior to commencement of the leave. During this leave, the total costs of continuing membership in the University's benefit plans, except the pension plan, will be borne by the University. By statute, not less than six weeks of this leave must be post-natal leave. Maternity leave does not count as sick leave.

If a staff member is required to be absent for a period longer than 17 weeks as certified by a legally qualified medical practitioner, or if her work is materially affected by her pregnancy and the University requires an extension of leave, the further period is covered under the University's sick leave policies.

The University will normally attempt to reinstate a staff member, following a period of maternity leave, in a position comparable to that she occupied before the leave. (If she has completed at least one full year of continuous service prior to the commencement of her leave, by statute the University must so reinstate her, and pay her the same rate of pay after the leave as before it.) If her leave is extended beyond the 17 weeks' maternity leave, the University cannot undertake to guarantee reinstatement in a comparable position.

A doctor's certificate that a staff member is pregnant may be required.

WATERLOO

Maternity, Paternity, and Adoption Leave

A female employee shall be granted maternity leave with full salary and benefits for a period of up to fifteen (15) weeks, to be taken at the discretion of the employee during the period(s) preceding and/or following the birth of her child. An employee shall, if she so chooses, have the right to continue with her regular duties during pregnancy. Should the health of the mother or child require additional time off from University duties, the employee may apply to her Dean/Director of Libraries for a leave of absence without pay for an additional period of up to twelve (12) weeks. Application for maternity leave shall be made as early as possible in advance of the expected delivery date. The employee shall give due regard to the need of the University for early notice of a prolonged period of leave.

The teaching/professional and service responsibilities of an employee on maternity leave of less than one month shall normally be assumed by her colleagues without additional expense to the Employer. If an employee takes maternity leave of longer than one month, the Employer will normally arrange for a substitute or shall provide appropriate remmeration or other compensation to colleagues who assume her duties.

Leave with full salary and benefits of up to five (5) days shall be granted to a male employee on the occasion of the birth of his child. The teaching/professional and service responsibilities of employees on paternity leave shall normally be assumed by their colleagues without additional expense to the Employer.

Leave of absence of up to five (5) days shall be granted to employees upon the adoption of a child. Employees in this case shall provide the Dean/Director of Libraries or Chairperson (where applicable) with as much notice as possible of impending adoption for which leave is to be taken. The teaching/professional and service responsibilities of employees on adoption leave shall normally be assumed by their colleagues without additional expense to the Employer.

Pregnancy, Paternity, and Adoption Leave

An employee who is pregnant and who has been employed by the University for a period of at least 12 months immediately preceding the estimated day of her delivery, shall be entitled upon her application to a leave of absence without pay of at least seventeen weeks, or such shorter leave as she may request, commencing during the eleven weeks immediately preceding the estimated day of her delivery.

The University's regular portion of the employee's benefit premiums shall continue to be paid during pregnancy leave, and the employee shall continue to accrue seniority for the duration of such leave.

No employee shall be required to return to work following pregnancy leave earlier than six weeks following her actual date of delivery; nor shall she be permitted to do so unless she has given one week's notice of her intention to return and has furnished her Supervisor with the certificate of a legally qualified medical practitioner stating that she is able to resume her work.

An employee shall give her Supervisor two weeks' notice in writing of the day upon which she intends to commence her pregnancy leave, and shall furnish her Supervisor with the certificate of a legally qualified medical practitioner stating that she is pregnant and giving the estimated day upon which delivery will occur.

An employee who intends to resume her employment on the expiration of her pregnancy leave shall inform her Supervisor of her approximate date of return when she applies for leave. If the leave requested is not longer than the leave allowed by law, upon her return to work she shall be reinstated in her former position. If the employee requests a further leave of absence, without pay, Article 14 - Leave of Absence Without Pay will apply.

The University may require a pregnant employee to commence leave at any time when the duties of her position cannot reasonably be performed by the pregnant woman, or the performance of her work is materially affected by the pregnancy. Any grievance arising from such decision shall be initiated at Step 3.

A leave of absence with pay shall be granted for up to three days for paternity leave.

An employee shall be granted up to three days' leave of absence with pay at the time of adoption of a child.

Professional and Managerial Staff
Effective September 1st, 1979

A female employee, who has been employed by the University for a period of at least twelve months immediately preceding the estimated date of delivery of her child, shall be granted maternity leave with full salary and benefits for a period of up to fifteen weeks, to be taken at an appropriate time during the period immediately preceding and/or following the birth of her child. The University may require the employee to commence maternity leave at a specific time should it be evident that she cannot reasonably perform the duties of her position.
